PASTOR'S CORNER

THE GOOD SAMARITAN

Fr. Daniel Gee

Christ responds to the question “and who is my neighbor?” by telling the story of the good Samaritan. He mentions that the Samaritan was “moved with compassion” upon seeing the hurt stranger on the road. Then, at the end of the Gospel, the young man who had been questioning Jesus replies that it was the Samaritan who had shown mercy, and therefore exhibited the neighborly qualities necessary to follow Christ and live according to His teachings. Does this mean that God expects you to stop every time you see someone on the side of the road and help them fix a flat? Of course not.

But it does mean that the “let someone else handle it” attitude that plagues us must be annihilated from our thought process. We might think it odd that Christ answered the question of “who is my neighbor” with this story, but in fact, this story pales in comparison to the action taken by God in saving us from our injury. The Jew and the Samaritan were certainly much more alike than man and God, and yet we fail to witness to the fact that the Father sent His only Son into the world to redeem us. Talk about stopping at the side of the road to help the less fortunate. He lowered Himself and took on your flesh so that you might be healed. He didn't take the “I'll let someone else redeem them” attitude. Thankfully.

Imagine our plight if Christ had not been willing to take that condescending step and compassionately reach down and lift us from the spiritual malaise in which we floundered. We'd still be gasping for air, flopping on the sand like a beached carp. He was the only one who could have done the job as the Father desired. How often do you shrug off your responsibilities with the silent mantra, “let someone else do it”? Too often.

In God's great plan He chooses you for many things: to parent, to teach, to guide, to counsel, to aid, to help, to heal. The choice as to whom belongs to God much of the time. Most of the time the recipient of our attention will be those close to us, family and friends, but not always. Remember the words of Christ “whatsoever you do to the least of these, my brothers, you have done unto me.” To ignore anyone is to ignore Christ.

Through grace and the Sacraments, God disposes us to embrace others as He has embraced us. Not only should we never feel even touch of schadenfreude when witnessing the plight of others, we should not ignore them and assume that someone else will take care of them. Rather we should recall that God constantly bends down and helps us when we are in need, even though it sometimes comes from whom you least expect.

REFLECTION FOR THE FIFTEENTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

We can learn a great deal from Mister Rogers. Remember him? He was the gentle soul who found his way into living rooms worldwide starting as far back as 1968. Mister Rogers' Neighborhood was a beloved program that celebrated and exalted people, especially children. He taught us that we are neighbors and that everyone has a place. Everyone matters. He had a vision, born of his relationship with God that highlighted every human life's innocence, beauty, and uniqueness. To that end, he called us to be responsible for each other, saying nothing different than what Jesus said. Viewers quickly learned that life is not just about me.

“We live in a world in which we need to share responsibility. It's easy to say, ‘It's not my child, not my community, not my world, not my problem.’ Then there are those who see the need and respond. I consider those people my heroes (Fred Rogers).” It is so easy to look the other way. After all, I'm not the one who needs to leave home out of fear and try to find somewhere safe. I am not the one who is hungry and without shelter or food. I am not the one who has a child being bullied or ridiculed because of the way they dress or act. I am not the one being threatened with violence or unable to find meaningful work. The distress and agony of our neighbors are our distress and agony. We cannot walk by it with an attitude of indifference, especially if we call ourselves believers. When we no longer care, we have suffocated our souls. This is a great sin.

God's law “is something very near to you, already in your mouths and in your hearts; you have only to carry it out.” We all have a need for love and acceptance. That's why Mister Rogers' television show was so popular. It spoke to something deeper, something sacred about humanity. God didn't give us his law in a book. He wrote it on our hearts. We know what we need to do. It's a matter of choice. Love is sacred. When we love another human being, especially without regard for ourselves, it is a holy moment. These moments are often missed due to our self-serving agendas and rules.

Loving your neighbor is not just about showing concern to the one staying next door; rather to every person in the society. Learning the etiquette to get along with others is in away loving our neighbors. Get inspired by reading some powerful quotes about loving your neighbor. -Enki Quote
