IN ORDINARY TIME

"For the children of this world are more prudent in dealing with their own generation than are the children of light. No servant can serve two masters. He will either hate one and love the other, or be devoted to one and despise the other. You cannot serve both God and mammon." - Lk 16:8b, 13

PASTOR'S CORNER

Forgive As You Have Been Forgiven

The second letter to the Corinthians was written almost within a year after the first letter by Apostle Paul. In his first letter, he had addressed several conditions and problems within the church and was dealing with them with strong words to correct the evils in their midst. In today's reading, Apostle Paul aims to comfort those who had repented through his rebukes and corrections in first epistle (Vs.3-11), especially the fornicator who had received a fair share of his punishment by the church. In the first epistle, Apostle Paul had said to deliver him to Satan (1 Cor.5:5). In the 2nd Epistle we can see that he had repented and returned to God. In the Word of God, corrections are given to children of God with only one focus - that they will repent and return to Him. Likewise, in this case also it was effective and he is writing to the church to forgive him lest he should be swallowed up in much sorrow. (Vs.6-7).

The key verse tells us about the requirement of forgiveness and if not, how Satan can take advantage of it. Paul pleads for the church to forgive him and confirm their love to him, because the man had already suffered sufficiently. The purpose of the punishment was to bring him to repentance and it's done. Throughout the word of God we can see Satan's different devices against the children of God - an unforgiving mind is one of his chief schemes. Christ Jesus our Master taught us to forgive others. While He was teaching the model prayer to His disciples, He taught very specifically that if we do not forgive others, we will also not be forgiven. Or in other words, our prayers will be invalid. For if you forgive others their trespasses, your heavenly Father will also forgive you, but if you do not forgive others their trespasses, neither will your Father forgive your trespasses. (Matt.6:14-15;18:35).

How is our response about forgiving others? One fact is that, we may have heard about the mistake of our fellow brother/sister and our view or thoughts about him/her might change based on the things we heard and perceived! Slowly it will be reflected in our approach and later it comes out through words, sometimes even in the presence of others. If the person has repented from the wrong doings, returned to God, receiving forgiveness from the Father Himself, we are to accept him/her graciously. On the contrary, Satan takes advantage of the other person, who hasn't forgiven the brother/ sister. Matthew 7:1-2 tells us: "Judge not, that you be not judged. For with what judgment you judge, you will be judged; and with the measure you use, it will be measured back to you."

As a child of God, we received forgiveness not because of any of our good deeds; it's His mercy we have received through Jesus Christ our Saviour (1Peter1:18-19). To understand the devices of the enemy we need to be rooted in the Word of God. James tells us to submit yourselves therefore to God. Resist the devil, and he will flee from you. Draw near to God, and he will draw near to you (James 4:7-8). Therefore "Strive for peace with everyone, and for the holiness without which no one will see the Lord. See to it that no one fails to obtain the grace of God; that no "root of bitterness" springs up and causes trouble, and by it many become defiled..." (Heb.12:14-15).

REFLECTION FOR THE TWENTY-FIFTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

"You cannot serve both God and mammon."

Merriam-Webster defines mammon as material wealth or possessions, especially having a debasing influence. While God does not take issue with our need to use money for the business of our lives, there can be a problem with the attitudes we bring to it. We can easily become so preoccupied and obsessed with money that it becomes the real "god" we worship. Do we serve mammon instead of God? In their book, Wealth, Riches and Money, Craig Hill and Earl Pitts outline symptoms of mammon's influence in our lives. Some of these are worry and anxiety over money, money mismanagement, fear over "never having enough," an "I can't afford it" mentality, impulse buying, stinginess, greed, debt, and discontent.

Many of the things on that list can consume us to the point that we are distracted from what we really need to be doing. Many people spend an inordinate amount of time worrying about money and it becomes the source of their worst fears. If we are honest with ourselves, we need to admit that we place far more emphasis on our material securities than we ought. In fact, we have actually convinced ourselves that we cannot live without it. Are we that certain about the presence of God? Many of the world's problems, especially those involving inequity and injustice, result from conflicts about money. Many equate money with happiness. Those successful in accumulating large amounts of it quickly realize just how wrong they are.

"Your ultimate allegiance is not to the government, not to the state, not to nation, not to any man-made institution. The Christian owes his ultimate allegiance to God, and if any earthly institution conflicts with God's will it is your Christian duty to take a stand against it. You must never allow the transitory evanescent demands of man-made institutions to take precedence over the eternal demands of the Almighty God (Martin Luther King, Jr.)." This is the point Jesus is trying to make. Unfortunately, when we look around our man-made kingdoms are far more prevalent than God's kingdom. When we start seeing greater evidence of justice, equity, dignity, respect, opportunity, gentleness, holiness, solidarity, honesty, simplicity, care for creation, and a decrease in ambition, then we will know that God's kingdom is being served. We will be doing what we are supposed to do
